The Cobar War Memorial Children's Hostel is located in the mining town of Cobar approx 700km west of Sydney. The hostel is a self-funded organisation that relies on donations to stay open.

Commonwealth Government assistance is available to isolated children. Accommodation is available to all rural children wishing to attend a primary, secondary or TAFE education in Cobar.

As the hostel operates on a friendly, family atmosphere, accommodation is also offered to parents who might wish to spend weekends with their children.

Students living in the Cobar hostel have the choice of Catholic education to Year 6 and public school education to Year 12.

The hostel is ideally situated close to both schools, shopping centre, and all sporting facilities.
