Under the auspices of Aboriginal Hostels Limited, Canon Boggo Pilot is a 40-bed boarding facility for girls, and is available for Years 8—12 eligible Outer Island students attending Thursday Island State High School.

The shared accommodation rooms for 2-3 girls are spacious, with air-conditioning, overhead fans, study desk and personal wardrobes.

The hostel is situated in a luxurious setting of tropical gardens, within a block of the Victoria Parade Esplanade, across the road from the Ken Brown Oval, and within walking distance from the centre of town.

Boarders have access to a games room and TV room. Home study is conducted in the tutorial room 5 evenings per week.

The 3 supervisors who care for the children all live on site.
