Albany Residential College, (also known as Amity House) is situated in Albany on the south coast of WA, 400 km south of Perth.

Located on the slopes of Mt Clarence adjacent to the Albany Senior High School, the College is a co-educational facility and can house up to 105 students from Years 8-12. Students at Amity House attend Albany Senior High School, North Albany Senior High School and St Joseph's College.

Senior students have single rooms available, while others are accommodated in shared rooms. A large computer room is available to the students to assist with home-studies and knowledge of computers.

Being on the coast, the College is able to offer an extensive range of leisure activities to the students.

Albany Residential College is a member of the Country High School Hostels Authority funded by the Government of Western Australia.
