Karalundi Aboriginal Education Centre is an independent parent controlled Christian school located 55km north of Meekatharra in the Murchison region of Western Australia.

A co-educational boarding school for Indigenous students from Years 1-10, Karalundi caters for up to 100 students.

With strong ties to the Seventh-day Adventist Church, the centre promotes healthful living including abstinence from alcohol and smoking. Students participate in the worship program including Sabbath services.

The hostel is modern and of rammed earth construction. It consists of two buildings of dormitory style accommodation for male and female, with a central building housing a well-equipped kitchen and laundry.

Extensive grounds surrounding the school form a welcome oasis from the desert heat. A full range of recreational facilities is available including a swimming pool, oval, basketball court and all-weather activities centre.
