Narrogin Agricultural College, established in 1909, is situated in Narrogin, approx 200 km south-east of Perth.

The College accommodates up to 125 boarders in 24 and 30 bed dormitories for males and 5-bed homestead style rooms and single rooms for females. The farm is situated on 1,220 hectares and covers all aspects of cropping and animal husbandry.

A general agricultural course, building construction option and farm machinery dealers association option are available to the students.

The students have a variety of indoor and outdoor recreational activities at their disposal, including a covered basketball/gymnasium and a “Club” house that contains weight-lifting equipment, sporting and musical entertainment.

Narrogin Agricultural College is a campus of the Western Australian College of Agriculture.
