St Brigid's College, in Lesmurdie, a suburb of Perth, caters for girls from all areas of Western Australia and from overseas, providing a secure, comfortable and caring 'home away from home.' The College population is 1200

The four Houses are built around a central courtyard which helps create a sense of community. Each house provides a common room and a lounge for recreational activities, as well as a private room with its own study area for each student. A boarding 'Mother' cares for the girls in each house.

After school, the boarders have access to College facilities including computers, library, swimming pool and tennis courts. The College bus is available to transport boarders to weekend and after-school activities in which the students are encouraged to take part.

A strong Christian ethos is an integral part of daily life in the boarding section of the College. The greatest gift that is offered to the girls is the opportunity to establish life-long friendship and memories.
