CODE OF CONDUCT

A code of conduct assures College members that they can expect to be treated in a manner generally accepted by society for the betterment of all College members and staff.

College members are expected to show respect and consideration for people and property including taking responsibility for daily duties, personal hygiene, safety, self- improvement, and for appropriate communication with others.

It is essential that College members are aware of rules and regulations that exist to support the Code of Conduct.

These are established to ensure the safety and good order of the College and its members.

The Code of Conduct, Guidelines and Rules and Regulations must be read carefully by parents and these should be fully discussed with intending students so that they are fully informed of all aspects of College life and agree to them.
